

THAT'S A HABITAT

Words by Linda Arnold and music by Linda Arnold and John Lee Sanders

Just like you and me

Every creature of the sea

Needs a healthy place to be

Just like you and me

Some need the sunlight

Where the water is clear and bright

Others find the rocky shore

Is where they feel just right

Every special home that an animal calls its own

That's a habitat, that's a habitat

Treat their ocean homes with care

As if friends were living there

For the ocean is a treasure we all share

Every rock along the shore

May be someone's little door

So be polite and treat them right

When you go explore

When we hear the call

Of every creature great or small

We help nature's living chain

That sustains us all

"Hello, Mr. Barnacle."

"Sorry, I've got to shut my door.

It's low tide and I might dry out!"

Every special home that an animal calls its own

That's a habitat, that's a habitat

Treat their ocean homes with care

As if friends were living there

For the ocean is a treasure we all share

Just like you and me

Every creature of the sea

Needs a healthy place to be

Just like you and me

"Please pick up your trash."

"Oh, so sorry!"

Every special home that an animal calls its own

(That's a habitat!)

Every special home that an animal calls its own

(That's a habitat!)

Every special home that an animal calls its own

(That's a habitat!)
