

MAYBE TODAY

Words and Music by Linda Arnold

Maybe, maybe today
My little baby will come
Spring skies are here so clear and blue
Sweet little one
The world is waiting to greet you

Sunrise to sunset
I waited for you yesterday
I felt so sure that you'd appear
Perhaps tomorrow
Little one you will be here

Someday soon without warning
I'll be taken by surprise
I'll have grown tired of waiting
And that's when my child will arrive

But maybe, maybe today
My little baby will come
With skin so soft and vision so new
Sweet little one
How I'm longing to see you
