

TOP HAT, BOW TIE & TAILS

Words and music by Michael and Patty Silversher; © 1991 Moogie Music

Who's the newest stars on old Broadway?
Who trips the light fantastic night and day?
Who creates a scene all dressed in green?
Top hat, bow tie and tails

With a graceful glide, a soulful stamp
A singular sensation from the swamp
A khaki cavalcade, a green parade
In top hat, bow tie & tails

Alligator's tapping, that's the news
The toast of the town in alligator shoes
Feel the syncopation
Tappin' 'cross the nation

Dancing up and down the shiny stairs
Making minuets in alligator pairs
What could be greater
Than tin-pan alligators in their top hat, bow tie and tails?

Put your hands together and clap
For the alligators of tap
Dressed up in their
Top hat, bow tie and tails

Alligator's tapping, that's the news
The toast of the town in alligator shoes
Feel the syncopation
Tappin' 'cross the nation

Dancing up and down the shiny stairs
Making minuets in alligator pairs
What could be greater
Than tin-pan alligators in their top hat, bow tie and tails?

Put your hands together and clap
For the alligators of tap
Dressed up in their
Top hat, bow tie and tails

Top hat, bow tie and tails
Top hat, bow tie and tails
(See ya later, alligator!)