

THAT'S A MORAY

Words and Music by Linda Arnold

If it slithers inside of a crevice to hide
With its mouth open wide
That's a moray

If it patiently lies in its cave the right size
With two beady eyes
That's a moray

That's a moray, moray eel
A long skinny fish that makes people squeal
Though it may look scary it's really quite shy
It's just a big fish that's trying to get by

If its color is blue but with yellow slime too
It turns a greenish hue
That's a moray

If it covers its back from a daytime attack
Down a long coral crack
That's a moray

That's a moray, moray eel
A long skinny fish that makes people squeal
On a coral reef night as the moon shines above
Even an eel may be looking for love

That's a moray
That's a moray
That's a moray, moray eel
A long skinny fish that makes people squeal
Though it may look creepy what can it do?
If you were an eel
You'd look creepy too

If it slithers inside of a crevice to hide
With its fang-toothed mouth open wide
That's a moray
That's a moray, moray eel
That's a moray
That's a moray, moray eel
